Robinson Says Aberhart Can Give Us S. C.

Even If Mr Douglas Does Not Come Here

Dr. J. L. Robinson S. C. M. L. A. for this constituency addressed a large meeting in Medicine Hat last Saturday night, giving a review of the work done in the legislature so far this season. He condemned Mr. Douglas for allowing his letters to the premier to be published in newspapers before the letters were received by Mr. Aberhart and said he could not understand why Mr. Douglas should hesitate to come when he knew the government was so fully behind him.

Dr. Robinson assured his audience that if Mr. Douglas does not come Premier Aberhart and his cabinet are perfectly able to establish Social Credit by themselves.

S. C. Members Split On School Grant

However Vote To Reduce School Grants Carries

For the first time this season party lines were broken in the Alberta legislature Monday when 10 Social Crediters voted with the five members of the Opposition on a standing vote when the house was in committee of supply. The vote was not recorded.

Division came over the provision in the estimates to reduce the grants to elementary and secondary schools by nearly $40,000 compared with last year.

This cut was opposed by Opposition members who were supported by S. A. G. Barnes, S. C. member and a veteran member of the Edmonton public school board, with whom stood nine S. C. members in Mr. Barnes' section of the house. This combined opposition, however, was crushed by the treasury benches and some 30 back-benchers with the result that the reduction in the estimate goes into effect as provided for in the 1935-37 budget.

Mr. D. W. Gow from Medicine Hat, has been appointed census commissioner for the Medicine Hat constituency. The census will be taken in all the prairie provinces this year commencing June 1st.

For the first time in the history of the Canadian Pacific, air conditioned coaches will be used coast to coast on certain trains this year, it was stated at Lethbridge by W. M. No. 1, C. P. R. vice president in charge of western lines.

The staff of the Theatre will be continued this year on a larger scale than ever. A School of Fine Arts, the first of its kind in Canada, has been arranged. The school will include the study of theatre music and art. The dates have been set for Monday Aug 3rd to Aug 20. Particulars may be secured from the Department of Extension, University of Alberta.

Britain Commences to Strengthen Her Navy

Estimated that $230,000,000 will be spent within the next three years on armaments. "Here we see the 'Grampus' leaving the slipway after being christened by Lady Evans. This submarine was laid down in August 1924, and will be completed about the end of this year. Her length is 271 feet 6 inches.

Conditions in Europe Now Look Serious

Virtual Deadlock now Between France and Germany

During the past week conditions appear to have become quite serious in Europe. The German delegates at the Locarno discussions have made it quite plain that Germany is in the Rhineland to stay regardless of any moves by the League or the Locarno powers. Italy has announced she will not join in any sanctions against Germany until Italy's rights in the Italian-Ethiopian dispute were recognized. France and Belgium are agreed that Germany has violated the Locarno treaty and are determined that the terms of this treaty must be lived up to.

British statesmen are leaving no stone unturned in their endeavor to arrange a settlement satisfactory to all concerned.

In the mean time France is mobilizing troops on her borders. The British are frank that the situation is still extremely difficult. All talks and negotiations have still failed to find a way out of the fundamental difficulty over Germany's watch on the Rhine, namely: Germany is ready to negotiate but refuses to withdraw her troops from the Rhineland. France is ready to negotiate but she will not negotiate until the German troops are withdrawn from the Rhineland.

FAIR IMPLEMENTS INCREASE IN PRICE

Manufactures of agricultural implements are increasing their prices. This is due to the fact that the cost of raw materials has increased. The Federal Government in order to discuss the justification of the increase, there has been no general boom in prices and wide increases but a movement has started upward. The four range plough has gone up about $3 seed drills $26; binders $17 and cultivators $3.

High School Having A Big Carnival

Will Be in Broadway Store On March 27th

Bills are now out announcing what is sure to be a real jolly evening in the Broadway store on March 27th when the High School pupils are putting on a big carnival, with all the sights of a fancy fair.

Besides a program of games there will also be hot dogs, coffee and candy for sale, comic stunts by clowns, and a big side show of fakes. Valuable prizes will also be given away to the successful winners.

A real high of fun is assured. Don't miss it.

Of the 60 new permanent employees engaged by the S. C. government since coming into power, 22 were residents of Edmonton and 15 of Calgary. Of the six appointees who are being paid over $3,000 a year, 5 are from Calgary. Of all the new employees only one was from this end of the province.

Plan to Reduce Interest on Bonds

Will Mean a Big Saving To The Province

Legislation to call in all Alberta bonds and replace them by new issues bearing interest at 2.75 or 3 per cent will be introduced within the next 10 days in the Alberta Legislature, it was announced by Premier Aberhart. By this means, he said, the government will bring about the compulsory conversion of the $160,000,000 provincial debt, and so save some $100,000 each year in interest charges.

At the same time the Premier said the government is studying the possibility of invoking legislation to cut the present high interest charges on mortgages for individuals. The power of the provincial government to this end is being investigated, he indicated.

The horse sale in Medicine Hat will be held tomorrow, March 20th.

Fine Irish Concert At The Parish Hall

Under The Direction of Mrs.
D. W. Hays Medicines Hat

St. Ambrose Parish Hall was taxed to capacity to accommodate the large crowd which attended the Irish program given on St. Patrick's day.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. D. W. Hays of Medicine Hat, and she was accompanied by Miss Hilda Watson, Miss Bessie Hosie, Miss Viva Cox, Mrs. H. N. Davis and Messrs. H. N. Davis and F. Blackburn all of whom took part in the program, which was made up of solos, quartets and choruses, all of which were of an Irish character in keeping with the occasion.

The program was of a very high order and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Hays was requested by many who have heard her before, to sing "Kathleen MacEvoy" which she did in a very pleasing manner.

At the close of the program it was decided to make this an annual event in the parish hall.

Renewal for another year of the present relief agreement with the Dominion government has been asked by the province, states Hon. W. W. Cross, minister of relief.

An extensive paving and graveling program for Alberta's main and market highways is under consideration by the Alberta government. One thousand miles of this work is mentioned.

Labor Minister Rogers announced in the house of commons Monday no more men were being admitted to relief camps in line with the government's determination to close them as soon as possible.

New Recall Law Looks Like A Real Farce

Requires 66 2-3% of Voters to Sign Petition

In a few days the Recall Bill will become law. All that will be necessary under the measure to recall a member of the legislature, is to get 66 2-3% of the total voters on the last revised voters' list, to sign a petition asking for the member's recall. Easy isn't it? Just imagine if a constituency with 8,000 names on the last voters' list, and possibly 500 of them either dead or out of the province by this time, how easy it would be to get 5,333 names on the petition.

Besides the petitioners have to put up $200 in cash which they will not get back even if they do succeed to impeach the member.

Unless a member commits murder or some other dastardly crime there is not much chance of his being recalled under this new law.

This is just another example of how politicians can side step their pre-election promises.

The Recall as it now stands is simply a farce.

Suggestions For Beautifying Grounds

Books Available From The Dominion Government

It is generally accepted that the home is the first and best place to practice charity so the home should be the first centre of beauty and no better start can be made in this direction than by beautifying the home grounds. For those who have a desire to make their home surroundings a joy to themselves and all who see them, the booklet "Beautifying the home grounds of Canada" will prove a helpful and encouraging document. A limited number of this publication is available from the Canadian Horticultural Council, 114 Victoria Street, Ottawa, for the nominal price of 25c. It has chapters on landscape architecture, how to make the lawn, the flower garden, furniture, pools, rock gardens, the kind of shrubs, plants trees that can be grown in the different parts of the Dominion with plans and illustrations. The time of the year is rapidly approaching when then the nobility of pursuits — gardening, still be in full swing.

While Alberta enjoyed beautiful spring weather on St. Patrick's day, Ontario was covered with a heavy blanket of snow.

Representatives of the Dominions are conferring daily with government officials in Downing Street in order to keep in touch with the European situation. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian high commissioner, and the other Dominion representatives have been kept fully informed of the developments. Inquiries in Dominion circles indicated that the self governing portions of the empire are lining up with Britain in her efforts for peace.

Royal Stamp Collection

Late King George Specialized In These Or Fought

King Edward VIII. is a stamp collector of some renown, and has been honorary president of the Philatelic Society since 1919. He has specialized in the stamps of Prince Edward Island.

The late King George was a keen stamp collector, specializing in stamps of the British Empire. His collection was contained in three hundred volumes, bound in red morocco leather.

Among the King's stamps is the rare Mauritius one penny orange "Post Office" of which a curious story is told.

When the Governor of Mauritius gave orders for the first stamps in 1847 he gave instructions to the engraver that the stamps should bear the following legends: "Postage, one penny," at the top and bottom, "Mauritius" on the right side, and "Post Paid" on the left side, with a portrait of Queen Victoria in the center.

On returning home the engraver forgot his instructions, but seeing the sign, "post office," decided that the worst forgery was to be destroyed. However, three copies were found later.

A school boy was given one of these stamps by an uncle; then, losing interest in his collection, the lad sold it to a dealer for one penny. Recognizing the rare stamp, the dealer sold it to King George for two hundred pounds. To-day this stamp is worth fully twice that amount.

This stamp was again exhibited in 1906 with other stamps of the colony, together with the line engraved issues of Great Britain and a very striking display of King George. The last public exhibition of the Royal collection took place in 1908 when superb collections of Barbados were displayed.

The Royal collection also contains one of the rare Cape of Good Hope errors, the triangular one penny blue stamp. The error was caused when one of the one penny wooden blocks was mixed with the four penny blocks, so resulting in an error of color. There are only five known copies of this stamp in existence.—Leslie A. Barnes

Plans To Paint Miniatures

Canadian Artist Has Studied Features Of Royal Family

Josef Hilpert, Canadian miniaturist, whose tiny paintings of the royal family are famous, has returned to his studio in Toronto and will paint the miniatures.

Hilpert once was mayor of a town in Hungary, and came to Canada, shortly after the Great War. His miniature of Prince Edward, one-eighth of an inch, and was shown at the Canadian National Exhibition last year. He has painted the miniatures of the late Archbishop McNeil, of Toronto, Cardinal Villeneuve, of Quebec, and of Chief Justice Sir William McRae, of Ontario.

He usually paints on black only. He was a friend of and painted several miniatures of former President Gerardo Machado of Cuba.

Success In One Case

Doctor Stretches Neck Of Patient To Cure Arthritis

Modern medicine took a page from the medieval torture books and rigged up a block and tackle to stretch the neck of a patient with rheumatism. The strange instrument was described in the Journal of the American Medical Association by a head harness and rope and pulley arrangement by which patients were stretched into the air. Cures in five cases of severe shoulder and arm pains were claimed by Dr. Samuel S. Harding, of Boston, the inventor.

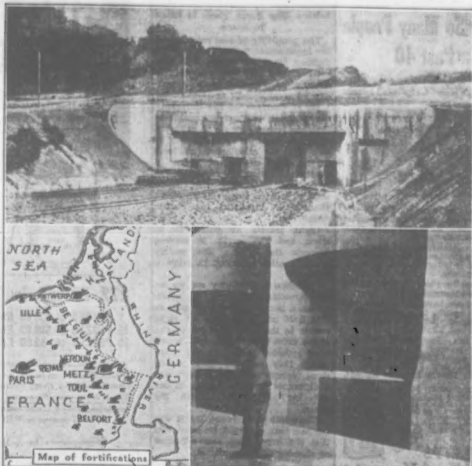

Tough Luck For Henry

Henry Pashin fell down the steps of his hotel at Bethesda, Iowa, spilled a pail of water, fractured several ribs and knocked himself unconscious. When he came to, he couldn't get up. The spilled water had frozen, fastening him to the wall, and he had to be thawed loose.

FRANCE DETERMINED DEMILITARIZED RHINE WILL NOT BE FORTIFIED

As it becomes increasingly evident that Germany desires to fortify the demilitarized Rhine zone, France appears equally certain that it shall not become an armed border. Above the picture is one of France's northern defenses built underground for ammunition storage and reserve shelter for troops. At the lower right is a map showing some of the fortified zones along the German border.

Described As Nonsense

Towers Says Bank Of England Does Not Exercise Magic Influence

Any supposition that the Bank of England exercised a "magical" and "malign" influence in financial matters the world over was described as "nonsense" by Graham Ford Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, in his address at the first annual meeting of shareholders in Ottawa. In any event, Mr. Towers added, "one can safely rely upon the central banks and governments of the respective dominions to see that no undue or pernicious influence is exerted. In these unsettled times the real problem of central banks are grave enough. It would be regrettable if the burden were increased by the addition of imaginary complications."

Mr. Towers described chief functions of a central bank as "to endeavor to regulate the volume of credit, to defend the external value of the monetary unit, to be a ready source of sound and impartial advice to the governments (domestic and provincial), and to afford timely co-operation with central banks of other countries."

Many Antelope On Prairie

Saskatchewan Has Over 8,000 Of The Pivory Deer

The prairie antelope will grace the new coat-of-arms of the College of Agriculture of the University of Saskatchewan. More than 8,000 of the pigmy deer roam the province. They can attain a speed of 30 miles an hour, and are the only representatives of their family on the continent. Known as pronghorns, or caribou antelope, they are tan, black and white in color. Only three feet high, they weigh copiously when cornered. Hunters have often been moved at the spectacle of one plowing for miles. Excellent venison is made from the hides.

An Interesting Souvenir

B.C. Woman Owns Picture Bearing Portrait Of King George IV.

A jag manufactured in 1830, bearing a portrait of King George IV, is owned by Mrs. H. Walker of Metcalfe, B.C. It is described: "In memory of His Late Majesty King George IV, born Aug. 12, 1762; died the throne Jan. 29, 1830; publicly proclaimed Jan. 31, 1826. Died June 26, 1830, aged 68 years."

It is of cream china and stands six inches high. Patterned in royal purple, it bears a portrait of the late king. When changes of the new reign will be that on the coinage. King Edward's head will face a different way from that of his father. King George's head looked to the left, as did that of Queen Victoria. Edward VIII. will look toward the right like his grandfather, Edward VII., reports an English paper. 2148

Wounds Of The Spirit

Tribute Is Paid To The Old Fashioned Country Doctor

Knowledge that many patients suffer from physical disorders because of wounds of the spirit, fervor of the mind, moral degeneration, fatigue, sorrow, remorse or worry does not penetrate into the practice of every physician. Miss Clara Giam, head of the social service department of the Montreal General Hospital told the closing session of the 16th annual meeting of the Association of Registered Nurses of the province of Quebec. She said these may easily be forgotten in the rush of clinical work. Only a fragment of the patient's personality appears clear in hospital. He has left a large part of himself at home or elsewhere, but his disease he brings with him. The rest may be forgotten under the hurried conditions in hospital, she added. Miss Giam thought the old-fashioned country doctor who saw his patients in their houses or at work, less apt to forget the man, less apt to forget the man.

Deer Destroy Trees

Orchardists In Okanagan Valley Waging War Against Animals

"Thinking that the deer were no longer a danger because of pictures sent either killed off or through migration, the orchardists of Peachland district in the Okanagan have been round by the re-appearance of these animals in large numbers. Thirty young peach trees were destroyed in one orchard in one night. Warfare is now being waged against the deer, with some farmers vigorously meeting repellents and others hastily planting all small trees."

POSTAGE AS SOVEREIGNTY BID

The Night Hon. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, had to warn Argentina that the issuance of postage stamps showing the Falkland Islands to be Argentine territory "can only be detrimental to the good relations of the two countries." The Falkland Islands include more than 100 islands and South Georgia, and has been Crown property for a long period. Above is a map, showing the proximity of the Falkland Islands to Argentina, and also a photo of Mr. Eden.

Drawing A Parallel

Governor-General Compares Canadian Surveyors To Old Voyagers

Drawing a parallel between their profession and the achievements of the early French-Canadian voyagers, Lord Tweedsmuir, governor general of Canada, told Canadian surveyors they were doing worthy work in the development of this Dominion, when he addressed the Canadian Institute of Surveying at Ottawa.

"A very great task, and blazon the track for air routes which will mean Canada, and of which this is the centre of the world," Lord Tweedsmuir continued.

"You have still great areas unknown, or imperfectly known, and natural riches which can only be gained at. Therefore your task has all the importance and all the excitement of that of the pioneer. You sketched ahead of settlement and development. You have often to take risks."

"You have a stupendous area to cover. To take only four Northwest territories, there you have a country about one-tenth the total area of the British empire."

"You are the extreme vanguard in the army of civilization. You have not only to survey unknown territory, but you have to help in unweaving the resources of that territory, the minerals and forests and water."

"I have always been a countryman; I am much more interested in the wide than in the cities. All my eyes have been kept among the men who spend their days on the outer fringes of civilization."

Might Use Island

Aircraft May Sometime Be Put On Tristan da Cunha

The lonely island of Tristan da Cunha, visited by ships only once a year, may some day be a landing and re-supply base for aircraft, Miss Hilma Henson predicted in an address at Victoria, B.C.

The speaker, recently returned from a voyage to the island, lying in the south Atlantic midway between Africa and South America, Miss Henson said 178 people live there in isolation. Although almost continually exposed to icy winds from the Antarctic, they are exceptionally healthy.

They lack modern conveniences such as radios and telephones, and are cut off from the world until the mail boat makes its annual call, but they have their domestic home as they have refused several offers to remove them because by the British government.

"The act of conversation is practically lost on Tristan da Cunha," she said, "and people rarely laugh, they have nothing to laugh about, either."

"Not once during the great war did the inhabitants see a ship," added Miss Henson, and the outcome of the conflict was a matter of conjecture. The population is composed mostly of shipwrecked sailors and recluses who prefer living on the volcanic island. Many of the wives of the first settlers were native women from St. Helena.

Settled The Dispute

Clergymen Had Way To Determine Duty Of Maid

The Rev. Howard Hill was a famous English ecclesiastic. One day he overheard two servants disputing as to which should wash the hall, each insisting that it was not part of her duties. The clergyman called them in and sent each away on an unperceived errand. When they returned they found the reverend gentleman diligently mopping the hall, both earnestly protested against his performing so menial a task.

"Pooh! Pooh!" he said, "it's not your duty, Peggy; not yours, Jane; it must be mine, I suppose."

Thereafter the hall was cleaned regularly without dispute.—Christian Science Monitor.

Only three per cent. of the visitors to World War battlefields in France in 1935 were British, and the percentage from other foreign countries was less.

Woman Rules

Badu Island

Was Appointed By Queensland Government 26 Years Ago

On Badu Island, which has an area of 64 square miles and is off the northern coast of Australia, near Thursday Island, a white woman rules. She has her native court, or council, with three native councillors, and three native policemen to carry out her laws.

Twenty-six years ago Mrs. Zabel was appointed superintendent of Badu by the Queensland Government and for many years she was the only white person on the island. But she was never lonely. "I've never closed door or window at night for all these 26 years," she says, "and I've never been frightened."

Teaching and administering her small domain, Mrs. Zabel finds that time flies. The natives, about 800 in number, are unpolished children of nature, guarded from contact with the sophisticated elements of modern civilization by the Government, and wisely guided by Mrs. Zabel. No one may land on Badu without Government permission, and with that permission all have to meet the scrutiny of Mrs. Zabel's keen eyes.

Clothing of trousers and shirts shall keep the men of Badu busy. Their intelligence and physique are of a high order. Some of them are disfigured themselves with tattoos, but they are not. They produce a native craft to be inspected by the British.

The women busy themselves in their homes and gardens, caring for their children or teaching under Mrs. Zabel.

As an instance of the mischief that may be wrought by the introduction of an apparently innocent pastime, marling-paper has had to be put down. So fascinated by it were the busy island fathers that they neglected their fishing and shell gathering; indeed, every other activity was abandoned. When the council was held and the fact went forth that Badu must be "cleaned up" and all the marbles collected. Thereafter, small clicks of marbles against marble were no longer heard—and industry and prosperity returned to Badu.

Farm Exports

Shown To Be On Increase, But Still Way Below Volume Of Six Years Ago

While farmers labored in the House of Commons indicate Canadian exports of farm products are increasing, they have a long way to go before reaching the high volume and value of six years ago.

In the fiscal year ending March 31, 1935, Canada's farm exports, exclusive worth $465,254,051. Four years later they had dropped to $228,032,000. In the fiscal year ended with March 31, 1936, they had climbed back to $280,069,923. They were still $185,185,125 below the 1930 figure.

Exports of farm products valued at $441,821,654 in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1935, dropped to $188,902,581 by the end of last March.

Gifts From Queen Anne

Mohawk Indians Of Brantford Treasure Gift Received In 1915

It recalled the Mohawk Indians years ago brought to what is now Brantford their famous Bible and other communion service, gifts from Queen Anne, bearing the royal arms and the inscription: "Gift of Her Majesty, Anne, by the Grace of God, Great Britain and Ireland and Her Plantations in North America, to her Indian chapel of St. Michael's, 1712."

It is also believed that the bell, which was the first to vibrate in Canada to call worshippers to service, was a gift of Queen Anne. In collecting the gifts from the Mohawk church, Joseph Brant is said to have been assisted by the liberality of George III.

Smallest Foreign Colony

Only Three Spanish Families Living Near Lough, Scotland

Britain's smallest foreign colony has been found near Lough, Scotland. Fifty Scottish families went in 1915 to Spain to work as iron smelters. The local Spaniards liked them so much that 10 Spanish families in Santander went to Scotland to live in the home their friends had come from. They worked in the local industries, but after the War most of them returned to Spain. Now only three are left in Lough.

CONFIDENCE

TURNING over the pages of an old volume the other day, we came across a glowing record of wisdom in the shape of a proverb, which we think particularly applicable to us and to our business: "He who giveth Confidence, Also receiveth a Trust."

We have said before in these writings that one of the greatest, if not the greatest, of all EATONS' assets is the CONFIDENCE of the West—confidence based on more than twenty-five years' mutual respect, each for the other. But the story does not end there. For just as we appreciate the value of this confidence, so also do we realize the importance of the TRUST which the confidence imposes on us. Very seriously we accept the trust and see to it that it is rightly kept in every detail. The efforts we put forth to secure for you the finest in values that the markets of the world have to offer—the increasing vast which our Research Bureau keeps abreast of the quality of everything we offer—the EATONS' guarantee itself—these EATONS' features of our great determination that the confidence of the West in EATONS' and EATONS' way of doing business, shall not be misplaced.
